Meeting sheet · your copy

AfterRing · 30 minutes · ask, listen, write, then demo

Business: _____ Owner: _____ Date: _____

1 · FIND THE LEAK (8 minutes. Ask, then stop talking. Write their exact words and numbers.)

1. When the phone rings and you're under a sink, what happens to that call?
2. Who answers today, and during which hours? (you, office, family, answering service)
3. About how many calls come in on a normal day?
4. How many of those go to voicemail or ring out? And nights and weekends?
5. What is an average job worth? And an emergency call-out?
6. Of the ones you miss, how many would have booked if someone had picked up?
7. What have you tried already, and what did you not like about it?
8. Which calls have to reach you right away, whatever the hour?
9. How do you schedule jobs now? (paper, Google Calendar, Housecall Pro, Jobber, ServiceTitan)
10. What do you need to know from a caller before you send someone?
11. If we tried this for 30 days, what would make you say it was worth it?
12. Besides you, who has a say in this?

Never do their math for them. Let them say what the missed calls cost.

2 · DEMO (10 minutes)

1. Say: "It answers as a made-up heating company. Picture your own name in the greeting."
2. Have them call (978) 347-8475 from their own cell, on speaker, as a customer. Tell them to try to confuse it.
3. Let them book a visit, then ask "are you a robot?" and ask for a person.
4. Show three things on your screen: the visit on the calendar, the new row in the call log, the summary email.
5. Ask: "What would your callers ask that it didn't handle?" Write it down. That is their FAQ.

3 · OFFER AND CLOSE (5 minutes)

- $425 one time to build and test it on their existing number. Nothing goes live until they have called it and approved it.
- Then one bill at month end: $297 including 900 minutes, plus 20¢ a minute beyond. Card on file. Month to month.
- Live in about a week: one 30-minute kickoff call, then they test it before callers hear it.
- It never claims to be a person and always says the call may be recorded. The greeting wording is theirs to approve. Inbound only.
- Close: "Shall we do the kickoff Thursday or Friday?" Then fill page 2 together, now.

Your own numbers, for your eyes only. Each minute the receptionist talks costs you about 10 cents. A missed call runs about 3 minutes, so every call a day it answers costs you about $9 a month. He pays $297 including 900 minutes (about 10 calls a day), then 20 cents a minute, so you keep at least 10 cents on every extra minute. If he wants every call answered, not just missed ones, use his total calls a day. Calls a day they told you: _____ × $9 = $_____ a month.

IF IT'S NOT A YES TODAY

Leave the one-pager. Ask them to call the demo line again tonight, after hours. Agree the day you will follow up: _____. Ask who else they know who misses calls.

What we need from you to get started

AfterRing · afterringsservices@gmail.com

Fifteen minutes now saves a week of back and forth. Anything you don't know yet, leave blank and we'll finish it on the kickoff call. The receptionist only ever says what you give us here.

YOUR BUSINESS

Business name, as callers should hear it

Towns you serve
and anywhere you don't go

Opening hours, day by day

After-hours emergencies?
yes or no, and the rate if you quote one

YOUR PHONE

The number customers call

Phone company or system
Verizon, AT&T, T-Mobile, Comcast, RingCentral, other

When a caller asks for a person, ring this number

Emergency number, if different

Pick up after how many seconds?
15 is usual. Nights and weekends too?

WHAT IT CAN SAY

The five jobs callers ask about most

Jobs you don't do
so it never says yes

Call-out or diagnostic fee

Price ranges you're happy to have said out loud

Prices it must never quote

Payment methods, financing, warranty

What we need from you · page 2

BOOKING A VISIT

How you schedule today
paper, Google Calendar, Housecall Pro, Jobber, other

Length of a normal visit and exact time or arrival window?

Earliest and latest start times

What you need from the caller first address, problem, gate code, pets, parking

WHO HEARS ABOUT EACH CALL

Email for call summaries
and anyone else who should get them

Google account email
so we can share the booking calendar with you

Two people who will test it before go-live

Who may approve changes to what it says

Go-live date you'd like

THE QUESTIONS CALLERS ALWAYS ASK

(and the answer you give. A voice memo or a text later is fine. These become its script, word for word.)

1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.
7.
8.

You agree that the receptionist tells every caller the call may be recorded, never claims to be a person, and confirms it is an AI assistant whenever a caller asks. Several states, including Massachusetts and California, require everyone on a call to consent to recording.

Name | Signature | Date